Reporting User Publications to the APS

POLICY

---

1 PURPOSE

Users are required to notify the host beamline and the APS of publications resulting from work conducted here.

2 SCOPE

- This policy applies to all publications resulting from use of APS beam time.
- Work that does not result in publication must be reported as stated in Evaluation of Unpublished Research (APS\_1426363).

3 POLICY

Users will notify the host beamline and the APS of publications resulting from work conducted here. This information will be entered in the APS Publications Database. The APS Publications Database is a searchable compendium of information on published materials about (A) research carried out at APS beamlines, (B) research carried out by APS staff at the APS and elsewhere, and (C) research by authors from collaborative access teams that advances the field of synchrotron radiation science, but that is not the result of work at an APS beamline. It is the official source for listing APS-related publications, dissertations, awards, invited talks, patents, and other scientific and technical outputs in order to produce a comprehensive record about research at the APS.

Users will acknowledge the APS and the appropriate beamline(s) when reporting results obtained at the APS.

Wording for acknowledgments for reporting publications is coordinated with the Argonne Library. Publications should reference the beam time award DOI number(s) in hyperlink format (example: <https://doi.org/10.1000/182>) in the publication as follows:

“This research was performed on APS beam time award(s) (DOI: <add comment delimited beam time award DOI hyperlinks>) from the Advanced Photon Source, a U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) Office of Science user facility operated for the DOE Office of Science by Argonne National Laboratory under Contract No. DE-AC02-06CH11357.”

If it is impossible (for word limits or other reasons) to include the DOIs for the beam time awards, DOIs shall be included in the supplemental materials for the publications.

Instructions for acknowledgments and instructions for reporting publications consistent with this policy are maintained on the home page of the APS Publications Database (<https://www.aps.anl.gov/Science/Publications>).

4 ASSISTANCE

The initial point of contact for questions about this policy is the Head of Communications, Photon Sciences.

5 REVISIONS

The point of contact for changes to this policy is the Head of Communications, Photon Sciences. Changes can be made in response to suggestions from any stakeholder in user activities.

Modifications of APS policies and procedures shall be managed according to Managing APS Facility Procedures (APS\_1001409). The policy and procedure owners will work with the APS Procedure Administrators to keep APS policies and procedures current in the APS integrated content management system (ICMS).

The current revisions of any APS policies or procedures will be available through the APS (ICMS); users of a APS policy and/or procedure should ensure that they are using the current version.
